

WHAT IS THE ARROWSMITH COMMUNITY JUSTICE SOCIETY

The Arrowsmith Community Justice Society is a community organization whose purpose is to administer a Community Dispute Resolution process which promotes conferencing as a resolution and peacemaking mechanism for conflict in the community. Trained volunteers are utilized to accomplish the above objectives.

WHAT IS COMMUNITY DISPUTE RESOLUTION?

The Community Dispute Resolution process is a gathering of concerned parties. The goal is to create a safe place to discuss a conflict, how it has affected the parties and to bring healing and, possibly a resolution, to the participants. This community dispute resolution process is available to individuals and groups in our community at no charge.

The community dispute resolution process is:

- Organized and led by trained facilitators.
- Held in a neutral community location
- A safe environment for all participants to express how they have been affected by the conflict.

CONFIDENTIALITY

The process is confidential between the facilitating team and the participants. Statistics of conferences and their outcomes will be tracked and recorded by the Society for on-going evaluation of the program.

- All parties must be willing to participate in the process.
